Assessment criteria

Criteria 1: In no more than 500 words, explain your idea for a national strategic partnership to build support for organ and tissue donation (10 points)

Consider:

- How will you encourage mass audiences to register as organ and tissue donors and talk to their families?
- What is your strategic approach? What evidence do you have to support this approach?
- How will your proposed project tackle the challenge of bridging the intention-action gap for organ donation registration?
- What is the proposed timeline for your project? If multi-year, explain the key milestones and how you will adapt each year
- How will you monitor and adjust your activities to ensure they are effective?

Criteria 2: In no more than 500 words, outline who will be reached by your strategic partnership (5 points)

Consider:

- Who is the target audience and how do they align to the target audience identified for this grant opportunity?
- Why does this audience need to know about organ and tissue donation?
- What are your channels for reaching them?
- Why is your organisation best-placed to deliver this message to them?
- What is the reach of your project? Be as specific as possible

Criteria 3: In no more than 500 words, outline why your project represents good value for money (5 points)

Consider:

- What is your budget for the project? Clearly outline the spend (be as specific as possible)
- If you are applying for multi-year funding, how would you adjust and refine your project each year?
- How will you measure the effectiveness of your project? What are your key performance indicators (KPIs)?

Note: If you are successful, the KPIs from your application will be used in your contract, and you will need to report on these. Please ensure that KPIs included can be measured.

Criteria 4: In no more than 500 words, outline why you are best-suited to deliver this project (5 points)

Consider:

- What skills and experience do you have from other projects that will help you to deliver this project?
- Who is in your project team, and what will their responsibilities be?
- Have you delivered projects about organ and tissue donation previously? Why are you passionate about this cause?

Your privacy and freedom

Full lists of grant recipients are published on the GrantConnect and DonateLife websites. We may also publicise grant recipients in other publications. If your organisation is successful in obtaining a grant, you are required to acknowledge the support of the OTA in all related organisational publicity.

In accordance with the Freedom of Information Act 1992, any information held by the OTA, including your application, is accessible by you. Whilst the information you present to us is treated as confidential, staff and individuals who help us to assess and monitor grants may see it. The information you supply may also be made available to those assessing any other grant applications that your organisation makes.

Data held in the OTA's system may be used for statistical reporting, application assessment, media inquiries, accounting purposes and for contacting you. The details of all successful grants will be public information. However, any personal details will only be accessible by our staff, appointed auditors and individuals or organisations that may help us assess or monitor grants.

If you are successful in gaining funding from the DonateLife Community Awareness Grants program you need to recognise that there are certain expectations such as financial accountability, public liability insurance requirements and evaluation, and monitoring requirements.
